

Consultancy for the Metropolitan Police Service client: Metropolitan Police Service client brief: Provide guidance on renewable energy for new police building projects.

our solution: Energy demand assessment, renewable systems assessment, and energy guidance for planning issues.

description: The Metropolitan Police Service own a considerable number of buildings throughout the London Boroughs, and require a set of new centres to maintain efficiency.

Element Energy have been working alongside design teams on a number of MPS projects to provide advice and assistance with meeting planners renewable energy and CO₂ targets. Element Energy's experience of working with planners and policy makers places us in strong vantage point to ensure synergy with the planners requirements.

